It's about time ... to try Daxxify, the only long-lasting, peptide-powered line treatment.

Frown line treatments have been around for 20 years, but most don't last long enough, according to patients.

Daxxify is the first injectable to incorporate peptides, and to provide results that last, on average, twice as long as other neuromodulators.

Ready to smooth away frown lines, forehead lines, and crows' feet with natural-looking results that last?

Step Out of the Shadows with EYELIGHT

Who wants to look tired? Especially when we're not tired at all, but still have dark under-eye shadows and hollows?

Tired-looking eyes can have many causes. Often, however, they are the result of volume loss under the eyes, in an area that is called the tear trough.

When we lose (or simply lack) volume in the tear trough area, it gives rise to a hollowness, a groove, under the eyes. The groove deflects the light and casts shadows onto the skin, leading to dark under-eye shadows that make us look tired and fatigued.

Restylane EYELIGHT is a newly FDA-approved injectable hyaluronic acid filler that targets the tear trough area.

EYELIGHT treats the root cause of the problem – the lack of volume – by filling up the groove. Once the groove is reduced and the area smoothed out, light reflects from the tear trough area.

Instead of tired-looking eyes, you'll have bright eyes, and you'll look well-rested.

Call today to learn more about EYELIGHT and schedule your step-out-of-the-shadows treatment!
